

Miss Louise Hansen Wedding Date Is Set

Announcement was made recently by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hansen of the betrothal of their daughter, Louise Mac, to William Diesel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Diesel of New York. The wedding will take place Saturday evening, December 19, at 9:30 o'clock at Central Evangelical church with Rev. O. D. Wonder officiating. Miss Marcella Kembell will attend the bride as maid of honor and Eddy Koehler has been chosen as best man. Miss Hansen is a graduate of the class of 1920 Torrance High school and is very popular with the younger set. Mr. and Mrs. Diesel plan to take up residence in Torrance.

Mrs. Lee Wells, Mrs. Fred Hansen, Mrs. Mabel Ott, Miss Louise Hansen, Miss Caroline Stroh, Miss Eileen Blodgett and Miss Cassie Hansen. Miss Hansen was the recipient of many lovely personal gifts.

Among the delightful pre-nuptial affairs given for Miss Louise Hansen was a shower last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Mae Greenman, 2065 Carson street, with Mrs. Wallace McBride, as co-hostess. Buncos furnished diversion for the evening and honors were received by Mrs. Fred Hansen. Pink and white were cleverly arranged in the decorative favors and accessories and carried out in the menu. Guests included Mrs. Betty McKinsey, Mrs. Mabel Boynton, Mrs. Lona Piper, Mrs. Lalla Bowen,

Miss Louise Hansen was honored when a group of her friends arranged a delightful shower at her home on Carson street last week and presented her with many lovely gifts. A mock wedding was a feature of the party, with Mrs. H. Proposed Charter Completed; People Vote On It Next April

Up to press time this afternoon, all the freeholders had signed the charter with the exception of Herbert S. Wood, Guy L. Mowry and W. Rufus Page. Only eight out of the 15 freeholders are required by law to bring the matter to a vote of the people.

"We hope our efforts meet with the approval of the people. We would like to see every citizen make an earnest effort to read and understand the charter. No doubt some criticisms will arise—but we hope that they arise from an understanding of all points in the charter and their relation to the welfare of our city. If citizens read and think about the charter as they read it, we are confident that it will stand the severest scrutiny," he declared.

Can Write Own History
"This charter is not the product of one or a few freeholders. It is the creation of one woman and 14 men who have, I believe, shown their utmost faith in Torrance in the past. It is their joint, cooperative effort to make our city a progressive, vigorous community of civic-conscious citizens. We submit it on its sole basis as an organic law, a foundation of good, economical and safe government, and an instrument that permits Torrance to write its own history in the years to come as a city of industries and homes," Rippy concluded.

While the proposed charter embodies all points in administration, control and operation of municipal government, and while it expressly opens up new fields of governmental procedure in paving the way for a greater Torrance, it is so constructed that it may be changed by amendment by a majority vote of the people at any time.

They Created New Law
Every opportunity will be given residents of Torrance to read and absorb the proposed fundamental law of the city. No doubt there will be discussions of it in the various clubs, organizations and in many homes in the city. General meetings may be called to air its various points—in order that all citizens may know what they are voting on next April.
